

JESSE LEVI HIATT

Jesse Levi Hiatt, third son of Elihu and Elizabeth Sarah Hiatt, was born at Wilford, Idaho, on August 9, 1889. His family moved from Idaho to Vernal, Uintah County, Utah, where he spent his childhood days. He attended elementary schools, also the Uintah Academy at Vernal. Later he attended Northwestern University at Chicago, where he enrolled in the school of pharmacy. He became a registered pharmacist in Utah during the year 1913.

He married Essie Jayne Rich of Vernal, Utah, on March 23, 1911. To this union were born five sons and one daughter. The first child, Ronald Jesse, passed away at the age of four and was buried at Springville, Utah. The other four sons are now living in Heber: Maron R., Bernell R., Kent R. and Jay Lucas. The daughter, Nila, lives in Modesto, California.

In 1917, Mr. Hiatt came to Heber from Springville to manage the Palace Drug Store. This store was owned by Edwin D. Hatch, Emil Kohler, Andrew Murdock, Fred Giles and others. Later he became the owner of this store. In a few years the store building was purchased from the Hatch estate. It was remodeled, new stock and fixtures purchased, and made a modern, up-to-date drug store. Then the Hiatt family bought the Arch Davis Barber Shop adjoining on the north. This building was torn down and a new one erected. Western Stores occupied this building until about a year ago, when the Stanley Title & Abstract Co. moved their office into it.

His life centered mostly around the welfare and education of his children. All four sons are registered pharmacists. At present they are serving this community. In 1954 the Hiatt brothers purchased the old Bank Bldg. on West Main Street, where they started a second drug store, known as the Valley Drug, with Kent as manager. These boys, like their father, are generous with their time and devote long hours in serving the people of this community to the best of their ability. Often Mr. Hiatt would be called to the drug store, just after he had retired for the night, to get medicines or other items for sick customers. Seldom did he spend a holiday with his family uninterrupted without a return trip to the drug store, sometimes more than once during the day. His was the lot of a country druggist and one of the fast-departing types of community and character builders. He was one who took pride in the progress and development of this community, and in every way tried to aid in the restoration of better health to its people.

During his 33 years as druggist here he worked closely and cooperatively, with and at different times, the following doctors: Doctors Ray Hatch, W. R. Wherritt, B. A. Dannenberg, T. A. Dannenberg, F. G. Eskelson, E. G. Wright, K. O. Neilson, and Willard Draper.

Mr. Hiatt was a member of the LDS Church, serving in several capacities. He was a High Priest of Heber First Ward. He supported two of his sons, Maron and Jay, on two-year missions for the Church.

He was active in civic affairs, was a charter member and a past president of the Heber Lions Club, and served as district governor of the Utah Idaho Lions Clubs in 1939-1940, later becoming a counselor in International Lions Association.

From 1940-44 he was chairman of Wasatch County selective service. He was in charge of a number of Red Cross drives.

He passed away at the age of 59 at Heber on February 1, 1950.

After Mr. Hiatt's death his four sons continued with the business. Maron became manager, and Bub Kent and Jay were helpers. They purchased the other drug store and Kent is the manager there. They now have two splendid drug stores in Heber.

MARON RICH HIATT

Maron Rich Hiatt, second child of Jesse Levi Hiatt and Essie Jane Rich, was born in Vernal, Utah, September 7, 1913. His parents lived in Roosevelt, Springville and Lehi before coming to Heber in 1917 to make their home. His father took over the Palace Drug, which he operated until his death in 1950. His son Maron and his brothers now operate the same store.

Maron attended the North School and graduated from Wasatch High School in 1931. He was active in athletics in high school, having played on the winning high school basketball and baseball teams. Maron also played and managed the town baseball and softball teams. He also represented the Church on many basketball and softball teams, and his team won the consolation championship of the all-Church tournament held at Salt Lake City.

Maron has been active in Church activities of the Mormon Church, holding many positions of responsibility. In the Mutual, in the Sunday School and Priesthood organizations he was active, and was in the bishopric of Heber First and Heber Sixth Wards, and at present is serving in the High Council of Wasatch Stake. He also served a mission in the North Central States during 1931 to 1933, returning home at 20 years of age.

After returning from his mission, Maron

When membership in the Central Utah State League was proposed for Heber it was accepted unanimously. In fact, there probably has never been a movement so favorably endorsed. On game days the stores closed, the barbers dropped their scissors and quit cutting hair, the farmers turned the water in and let it run, the sick forgot their aches and pains, the restaurants wouldn't feed the hungry and even the garages and service stations closed.

Tourists who happened to come through town on a baseball afternoon in need of gasoline or repairs usually reacted first with anger, and then after hunting out the garage manager at the ball park usually ended up cheering right along with the next guy.

The games were not over at the ball park by any means. They were played over and over again at the saloons, barber shops and other public places. If a player had made an error or hadn't played too well on a certain day, he even hesitated going into town after the game.

At the ball park, the playing field was roped off with a large wire rope cable and spectators were taught to respect the player's domain. For years "Old Uncle" John Crook, an original pioneer then in his 80's, would sit by the steel rope cable in right field, and seldom missed a game. The brass band had the best seats in the grandstand and occasionally a baseball would go through the chicken wire net and foul off the bass horn.

During baseball season the club generally played two games a week, one at home and one away. It was quite a sacrifice for the players and those for whom they worked since a lot of traveling and practice time was required.

The clubs of the Twenties in Heber didn't have to rely on horse-drawn hacks for transportation, but went in style in automobiles furnished by Laban and Joe Hylton who were the transportation committee and chauffeurs.

The ball club prospered during the 1920's. It won division championships in 1922 and 1923. However, when the depression hit in 1929 the baseball team broke up and was never re-established on quite the same basis.

Managers of the Heber Eagles during the golden years of 1920 to 1929 were Andrew Murdock, F. C. Montgomery, Jess Hiatt, Add Averett, Alva Murdock and Bill Anderson. Alfred Sharp was the official scorer.

The players most remembered included Wallace Nelson, Pharis Murdock, Frank Sweat, Elliot Giles, Glen Nelson, Arthur Murdock, George Stanley, Clayton Montgomery, Virgil Fraughten, Bert Bonner, Tom Tadd, Clarence Murdock, Earl Montgomery and Ray Nelson.

The entire community supported the team, but some of the top supporters included John Anderson, Moroni Moulton, J. W. Giles, Della Murdock, James Ritchie, William Wilson, Ab Giles and John Wall.

the chapter for women of the valley who had business or professional careers.

Vilate McMillan was first president of the group, with Lula Clegg, vice president, Ruby Duke, corresponding secretary, Maranda Smith, recording secretary, LaVon Bond, treasurer and Edith Wootton, assistant treasurer. Charter members also included Nellie Ohlwiler, Agnes Parkinson, Mae Greenwood, Gladys Holt, Bessie Reeves, Edna Montgomery, Daisy Cummings, Garnet Watkins, Nina Clyde, Edna Murdock, Lerelia McMillan, Crissie Jones, Dorothy Salisburg, Emma H. Wherritt, Mrs. E. P. Cliff, Belva Fortie, Annie Fisher, Hazel Clyde, Florence Hicken, Laura F. Murdock, Manila Carlile, Sarah Orme, Heloise Hatch, Melba Duke, Teenie Duke, Nora Curry, Thelma Ritchie, Janie Murdock, Mildred Ivins, Nora Read, Josie Daybell, Sylvia Wootton, Veronica Heinleiu, Orah Giles, Sara Simpson, Edna McMullin, Comfort Bachman, Birdie Bates, Lethe Coleman, Dora Fuller and Martha D. Shute, an honorary member.

Numerous activities have been carried on by the group, including fund raising events to help girls of the community gain business education, conducting annual graduation teas at Wasatch High School as well as school oratory and music contests. The chapter established Wasatch County's Memorial Hill and has conducted memorial service programs at the site. They have also staged barbeques at the annual Wasatch County Stock Shows. The pits always being fired and meat barbecued by the Heber Valley Firemen, serving as many as 2,000 persons at one of the shows. Gifts have been presented to Wasatch County Library, and the group provided many services during World War II to servicemen or their families. Members of the club who have held offices in the state organization have included Lula Clegg, Edna Montgomery, Ruby Duke and Miranda Smith.

One of the community's most active service groups is the Heber Lions Club which received its charter from Lions International on December 10, 1928. The charter members included Ralph E. Strub, the first president, John M. Turner, William L. Anderson, John A. Anderson, Walter H. Seiter, Dr. H. R. Read, Earl M. Hardy, Earl H. Smith, Earl Tilson, Jesse L. Hiatt, Jack A. Jensen, A. W. Chenney, Joseph A. Rasband, Emer W. Murdock, Owen F. Buell, Laban Hylton, Dr. B. A. Dannenberg, Wilson Dean, G. W. Baker and George B. Stanley. Owen F. Buell was the first secretary and retained the position for 10 years.

Presidents of the club after Mr. Strub have been, in order of their service, Jesse L. Hiatt, Earl M. Hardy, John A. Anderson, Ralph F. Nilsson, Storm McDonald, John M. Turner, Joseph Hylton, Lowe Ashton Sr., Riley C. Draper, Clyde Broadbent, Dr. Karl O. Nielson, Heber M. Rasband, Ralph Stringham, L. C. Montgomery, Lloyd J. Wettencamp, Harold H. Smith, Andrew J.
